DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/26/2010 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

2. Amendment filed 2/26/2010 with said Request forms the basis for this Office action. In said Amendment applicants substantially amended all claims. Comments on "Remarks" submitted with said Amendment are included below under "Response to Arguments".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 25 and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. At least the combination of the newly added limitation on the concentration of halogen in the semiconductor film, which restricts the invention to the second embodiment, and the range for the value of the channel length of the channel formation region claimed to be 2  $\mu\text{m}$  or shorter is not supported by the specification as originally filed. Therefore, the claims constitute new matter.

4. Claims 47-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. At least the combination of the newly added limitation on the concentration of halogen in the semiconductor film, which restricts the invention to the second embodiment, and the presence of two separately claimed films, i.e., the gate insulating film and the thermal oxidation film, both located between gate electrode and semiconductor film (of which the channel formation region is a part), is not supported by the original specification; instead the thermal oxidation film so claimed is part of the thirteenth embodiment. A combination of the second and thirteenth embodiment is not disclosed. Therefore, the claims constitute new matter.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 21-23, 25, 42-64 and 68-70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted elements are: the simultaneous rather than alternative presence of hydrogen and halogen elements, as disclosed through the use of gettering means of a chemical substance including both hydrogen and a halogen (e.g., HCl, HF, HBr, see page 40, second through fourth paragraph).

6. Claims 21-23, 25, 42-64 and 68-70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, the independent claims recite the broad recitation "hydrogen or halogen", and the claim also recites "a halogen element is contained in said semiconductor film with a concentration" as claimed which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

7. Claims 25 and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The metes and bounds of the claimed invention are vague and ill-defined due to the lack of adequate written support as a result of the introduction of new matter, as set forth in section 3 above.

8. Claims 47-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The metes and bounds of the claimed invention are vague and ill-defined due to the lack of adequate written support as a result of the introduction of new matter, as set forth in section 4 above.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed 2/26/2010 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive of patentability, because the substantial amendment introduces new matter and renders the claim language indefinite, as explained above in sections 3-7.
